

Response to Salman Abu Sitta's Hasbara or Za'bara – The House of Rothschild is NOT a Za'bara!

The article 'Hasbara or Za'bara' by Dr. Salman Abu Sitta has some very good rehearsal of facts.

However, I am troubled by this article. Not by what it says, which is surely only as true as any victim's provable claims. But by what it does not say.

Its significant omission. Same as by every other Palestinian scholar of repute. And they do of course always have reasonable arguments to explain the omission – none dare refute the fact of the omission, most only fall silent which is always a good argument in a monologue, but some creatively span the gamut of excludability from short of time to short of space.

So what remains?

What remains is that Zionism is a House of Rothschild Project. The House of Rothschild controls all the world's money supply, and as per the key lever of financial/political/legal/social/controls: “give me control of a nation's money supply and I care not who makes its laws”, it also controls the world including all the world's instruments of power and their multitudinous incantations.

That aforementioned Mayer Amschel Rothschild's famous diction enables the real sovereign to exist behind the facade of democracy.

Which, as all sovereigns go, can make any law, violate any law, and create a puppetshow of laws and legalism in order to fool a people who are no longer imbued with kings and sovereigns but think that they are empowered to choose and govern their own lives.

Thus, Machiavelli was born through the Renaissance – when the ruling aristocracy of monarchs and priests lost power to plebeian norms with the onset of the new Age of Reason – and not earlier in time when kings and queens reigned as absolute monarchs on earth.

Thus, we get that delectable cake recipe wisely intoned by Dr. Salman Abu Sitta:

“How could you steal a whole cake and eat it? You first steal half a cake. With no deterrent, you steal the other half. You eat the whole cake under the ‘principle’ that the two halves must be “unified” (in your stomach).”

Such a cake recipe was not needed by the Roman Emperor to conquer Palestine. He simply did it as per the brazen terrorism of any absolute monarch – one which even Saint Augustine of Hippo acknowledged as the imperial prerogative of primacy and its geostrategic imperatives, a god given birthright of the sovereign to plunder and pillage at will:

“When the King asked him what he meant by infesting the sea, the pirate defiantly replied: ‘the same as you do when you infest the whole world; but because I do it with a little ship I am called a robber, and because you do it with a great fleet, you are an emperor.’ ” (The City of God against the Pagans, Page 148).

But in the 'democratic' modernity du jour, we need Machiavelli. Because the sovereign now cannot openly tell people what to do or demand obedience too overtly or at the barrel of a bayonet. So social engineering of consent was invented, and perfected Edward Bernays style.

The Hasbara is only a vulgar chapter in that book of Machiavelli. It is essential statecraft and is practiced ubiquitously. It is neither a singularity, nor should it be depicted as one. Because the genocide in Palestine is so stark, the efforts to socially engineer consent for it is also very stark, and consequently visible to us. But Machiavelli is a common purpose of statecraft in 'democratic' modernity, as is social engineering of consent.

That Machiavellian social engineering of consent for Zionistan draws its power, and two centuries worth of continuous planning and harvesting, from the House of Rothschild.

This article by Abu Sitta unfortunately does nothing to penetrate down into the guts of that Golem – the real primemover behind Zionistan – but remains focussed on its lieutenants and the mechanics of their genocidal machine. The War of Words betrays no comprehension of why this war of words is necessary, nor who is the prime-mover power behind it. It concludes with the wishful platitude like invariably all the rest of Palestinian prose and poetry:

Response to Salman Abu Sitta's Hasbara or Za'bara – The House of Rothschild is NOT a Za'bara!

“The world will be a better place, and justice will have a chance to prevail, when Hasbara is recognized as it really is: merely Za’bara. When truth shines, it expels the clouds of myths.”

And, the Ten Commandments too are not hidden from anyone either – haven't had much impact for 3000 years.

But as a Palestinian side of the true story of what has befallen them, it is a factual narrative, as is all of Dr. Salman Abu Sitta's enormous research. It is added to the tutorial below as yet another Palestinian side of the fate to be rehearsed to our progeny lest they forget:

From Genesis to Genocide in Palestine : The Golem Is Not Jewish!

And the following is an excerpt from a June 2008 Open Letter to Palestinian Intellectuals. It began as follows:

To: Palestinian Remembrance Authors, Architects, Documenters, Scholars and Intellectuals

From: Project Humanbeingsfirst.org

Date: June 08, 2008.

You have some very good websites. Thank you for the stellar documentation work. It is certainly useful, and in a just and moral world, these narratives and documentations of the Nakba would make good evidence in a fair court room. Among these stellar websites which appear to carry authentic accounts include: palestineremembered.com, plands.org, al-awda.org, badil.org, alnakba.org, and many more narratives which can be found on this links page. The most significant and substantive work done in documentation of the Nakba, in the humble view of Project Humanbeingsfirst, is by Dr. Salman Abu Sitta of Palestine Land Society. His new book “The Return Journey, The way to return Home” – A Guide to the Depopulated And Present Palestine Towns And Villages and Holy Sites – is a masterpiece of factual compilation that would be hard to challenge in any fair and moral court of law on any planet.

Except on Earth! In this world, and on this planet, where only power dictates and not its victims seeking redressal and justice, it is going to take a bit more than just documentation and narratives to get one's homes and lands back. As those given to even a modicum of reflection and empiricism well understand, among humanoids, power is only known to respect power – as “Hegemony is as old as mankind” – and justice in this system on such a vast national scale is only that which is administered by the victors to the vanquished.

Indeed, to begin with, it is gonna take a much deeper understanding of how sophisticatedly the Palestinian Nakba has been fueled, the intellectual capital that drives it, and why merely documenting stories and narratives is great for your antagonists, who, while you tell heart wrenching narratives, go on constructing political and structural faits accomplis that are subsequently irreversible. Without concomitant coddling of power-structures and playing with astute devilish efficacy on the 'Grand Chessboard', the ever spreading Der Judenstaadt is a fait accompli that has now made a Palestinian homeland less and less viable, except as “reservations”. Overtime, while these might be sugar-coated to look less like self-governing reservations, and more like segregated 'Black' minority neighborhoods that become part of Israel proper, a Jewish state in all of Palestine is now irreversible by virtue of practicality.

To make the point clear – who does not know how the Native American Indians' lands were settled in the previous New World, or how California was taken from Mexico? All the documentation in the world – and yet, faits accomplis are a powerful reality that may not be overcome or reversed without power and its incantations on one's side! With the passage of time, even power cannot reverse an existent reality on the ground without bloodshed – imagine a Mexican peasant today knocking on one's million dollar door in Sunnyvale California wanting his great grand-father's orchards back!

Time is on the side of the Zionists – give a hundred more years, or perhaps only twenty, even the Palestinian vacant lands documented by Salman Abu Sitta will have Zionist homes, farms, and state-parks with every Jew in the world planting his tree there! Try giving a California or Colorado state-park back to an American Indian were he to come calling with all the documentation in the world!

Read the rest of that open letter here if it's of interest to anyone.

It looks to me that there is no one to challenge the Rothschilds from among the Palestinians.

No one among them can apparently still grasp the import of why, oh why on earth was the Balfour Declaration issued to Lord Rothschild. A House which thrives on secrecy and anonymity, always prefers to stay behind the scenes as the hidden levers of the real nexus of world power, and by owning all the major newsmedia ensures their obscurity from public limelight to the extent that even the Forbes magazine cannot dare mention their name in its annual listing of the world's richest (and which instead lists the richest men in the world as the paltry billionaires Warren Buffet and Bill Gates) – and yet, in this one sole instance, the House of Rothschild accepted to be in the public limelight!

The House of Rothschild de facto own Zionistan! They are also playing Israel, to my political reading, as a Hegelian Dialectic to eventually create a “Zion that will light up all the world”.

Zion is primarily an idea, not a place. It can be mapped to any place. The present thrust does appear to situate it in a New Roman Jerusalem. But that's an effect of Zion, not the cause.

Understanding Hegelian Dialectic as the primary instrument of atheistic hegemony is essential to comprehending the world we live in and how Zionism to Islamofascism by way of Communism, Nazism, Fascism, and nation-states replacing the old world order at exactly the same time as the Balfour Declaration, all came about in the first place.

Zion's intellectual appeal is immensely motivating for the intellectual misanthropes – to raise a new 'cleansed' phoenix of humanity from the ashes of its corrupted-overpopulated misery, a Noah's flood – and far transcends the handful of overt Zionist criminals in Israel who are merely the foot soldiers.

Zion is the real genesis primemover behind world government and all the abhorrence of population reduction to be visited upon mankind therein. Palestine is the unfortunate canary in the coal mine.

The notion of “Zion” as the last bastion of humanity, of civilization, of secular humanism, is even being vicariously projected throughout the media and entertainment. Witness it even in the iconoclastic movie 'The Matrix' and the scenes of orgy in the Temple joined in celebration in parts 2 and 3.

It is logical for a plaintiff to directly indict the real masterminds behind the crimes visited upon his or her peoples.

Those masterminds still exist today and constitute the most formidable Golem known to mankind. Zionism is but one of its expressions. There is no mosquito which can magically go up its nose to bring down the new Nimrod.

It's gonna take collective 'Mens et Manus' – creative full spectrum 'Mind and Hand' engineering – to bring it down. Just like it has taken 'Mens et Manus' to construct it.

Not platitudes!

Thank you.

The author, an ordinary researcher and writer on contemporary geopolitics, a minor justice activist, grew up in Pakistan, studied EECS at MIT, engineered for a while in high-tech Silicon Valley (patents here), and retired early to pursue other responsible interests.
